First quarter (3 month) bank profits in Canada were $5.3 billion for the big six banks. The Conference Board of Canada reports that Canada ranks 15 of 17 in the developed world regarding child poverty rates. The child poverty rate increased by 2% between the mid-90s and the mid-00s. Should the world really Follow Canada's lead on the issue of a bank tax?

This came to me second hand already. Looks like it's going viral. Common sense SHOULD go viral! Do your viral work, interwebs!
