How can you tell that America is suffering from a vast, intense, rageful male backlash against feminism?

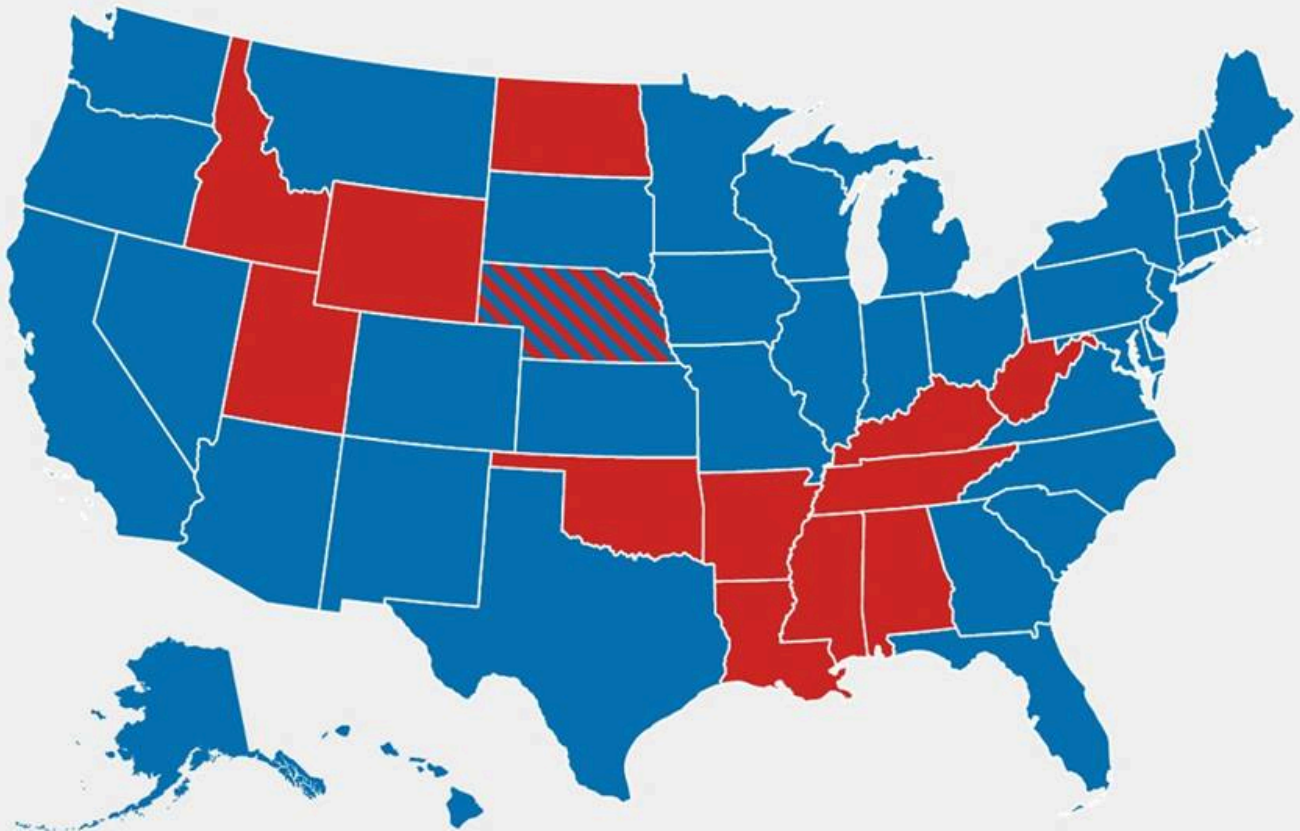

How can you tell men are struggling brutally hard to hold onto their entitlements?

[And don't be too complacent Canadian men; are we really different?]

Well, while this electoral analysis can't actually manifest next month, when we look at what would happen if only men or only women voted for president next month, you'll see what I'm talking about. Read, soak this in, close your gaping jaw and get busy seeking social peace and reconciliation!

What 2016 would look like if just women voted

Based on the FiveThirtyEight polls-only forecast

Nebraska's 5 electoral votes
