So, it turns out that if you and some of your single girl friends lament the lack of quality men in Vancouver, you may get attacked by anonymous men and women in the comments section of the Georgia Straight.

Go figure.

Whether that is "true" or not, people sure like to tee off on people. It feels a bit like the entitled imperviousness idiotic men feel when they shout sexually graphic obscenities at a female tv reporter on a live remote segment.

You can read the initial lament here and don't miss the comments below it. Here are but two of the most vile:

1. your words are redundant and sexist and unintelligent
2. Have you considered anthropomorphizing a bank machine, dressing it up in "swaggy" clothes and duct taping a dildo to it?
